I promise, I'm not...like you.

You've seen. I don't have any power. I'm not above anyone.

If anything, I'm... cursed.

I die.

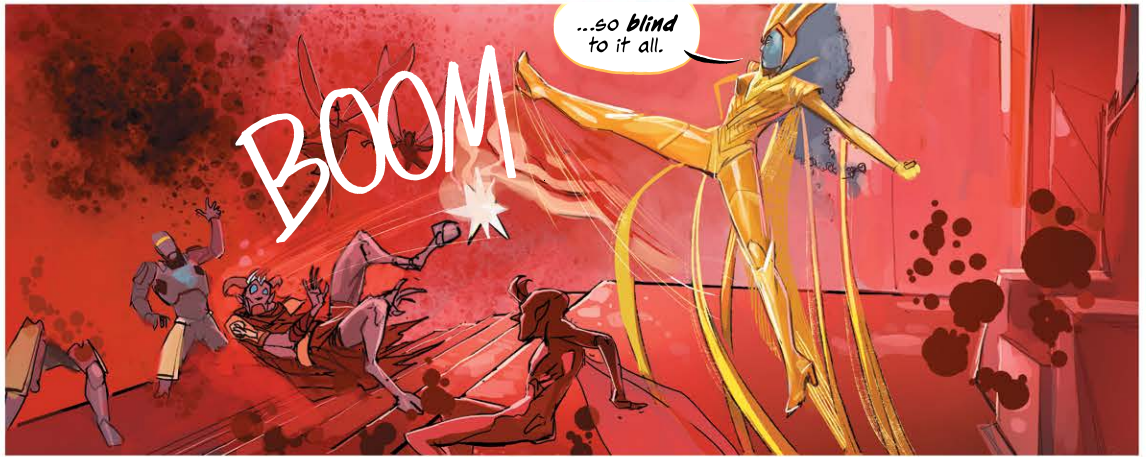

Or I watch those I grow close to die, and then I die.

There's no power in "enduring"!

You've seen so much. Yet you remain...

...so blind to it all.

THE 536TH LIFE

You.

You're here again.

Ha. No.

I need to talk to her.

Leave.

...no. I have to--

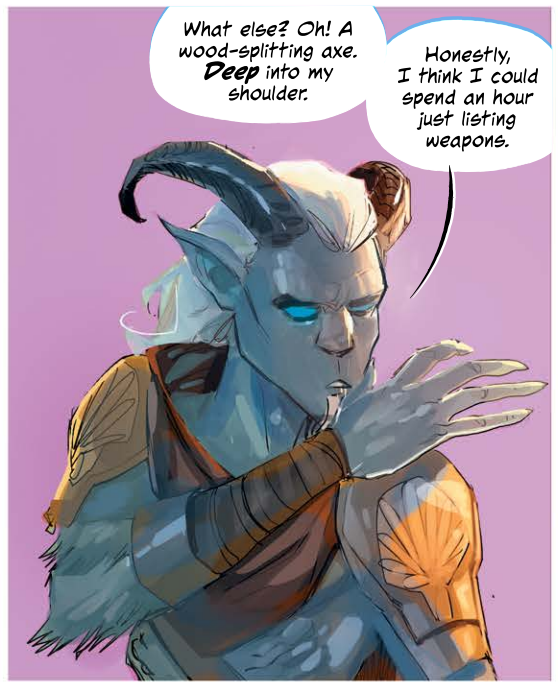

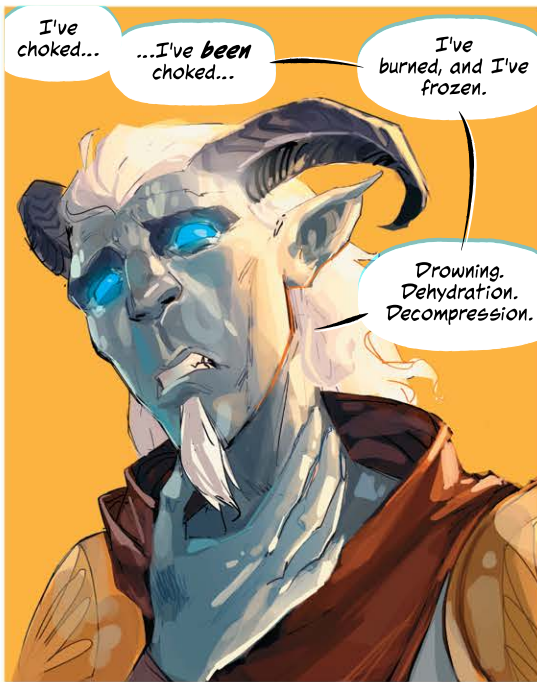

KRAK

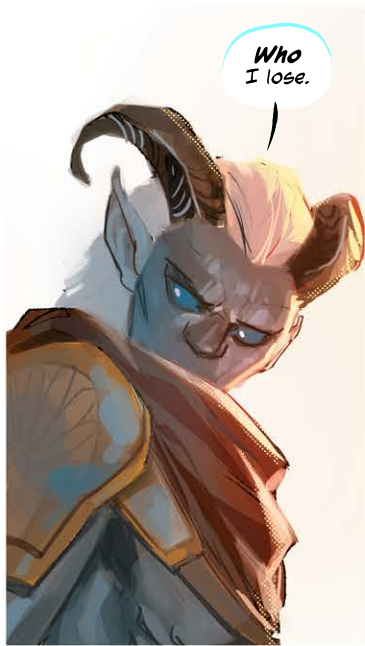

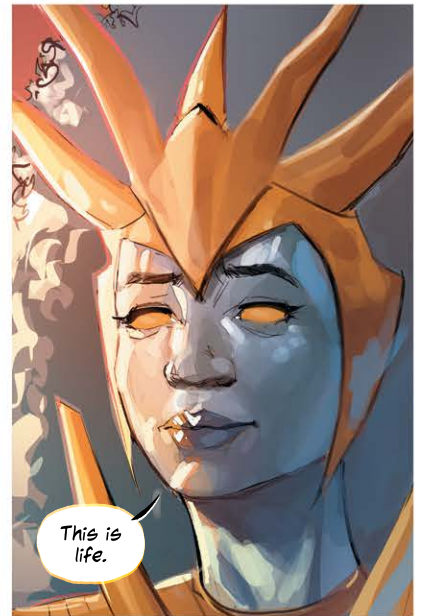

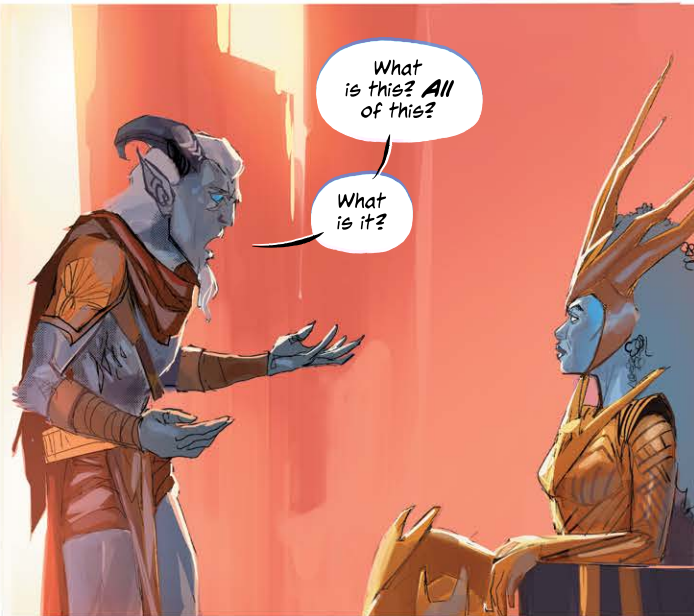

What are you going to do? Kill me? You think that's going to stop me?

Dying is my life.

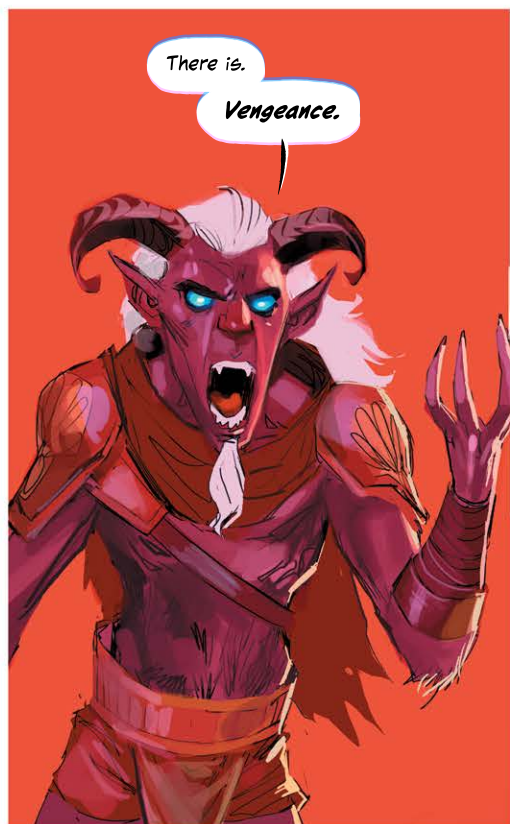

...I cannot.

You don't know what this is, you can't undo it...

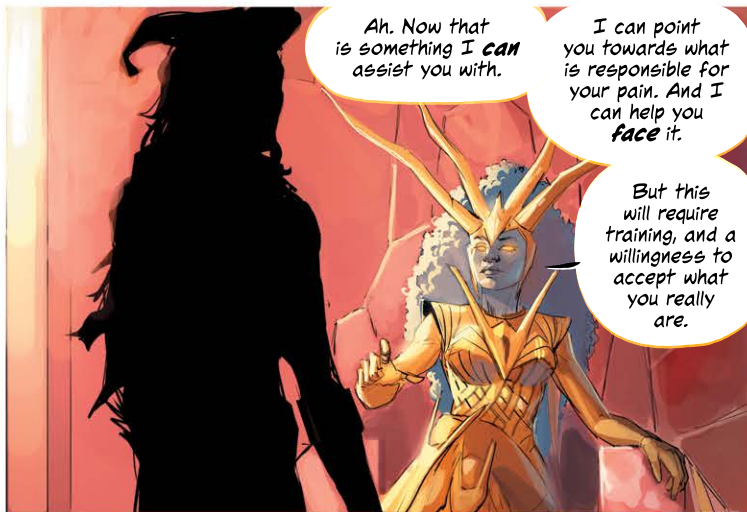

There's nothing here for me, then. After everything.

There is truly nothing else that you seek? Nothing else that your heart longs for?

There is.

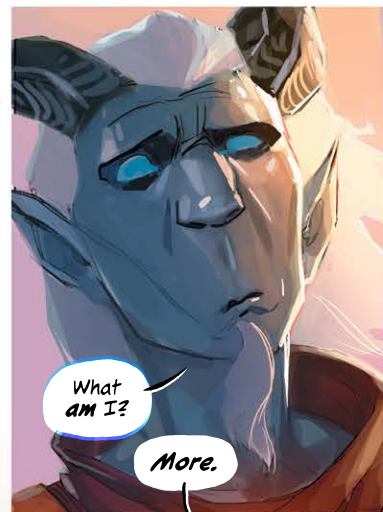

Vengeance.

Ah. Now that is something I can assist you with.

I can point you towards what is responsible for your pain. And I can help you face it.

But this will require training, and a willingness to accept what you really are.

What am I?

More.

So much more than them. These creatures are fleeing.

But you are enduring. Or, at least, you can choose to be.

But to do so, to free yourself, you must embrace your power and rise above their trivialities.

I promise, I'm not...like you.

You've seen. I don't have any power. I'm not above anyone.

If anything, I'm... cursed.

I die.

Or I watch those I grow close to die, and then I die.

There's no power in "enduring"!

You've seen so much. Yet you remain...

...so blind to it all.
