

Time: 14:27

Location: ██████████

One thing I've noticed is the age that I am.

You want to think that the world stops when you're not around, only to find out that it moves on just fine.

Now and then, you discover most things don't change at all.

But for a few, the world did stop without you.

Life is a series of boomerangs.

The past keeps coming back at me no matter how hard I throw.

OLD DOG

By Declan Shalvey

Lettering by Clayton Cowles

Edited by Heather Antos

#003: Back Into The Cold

