

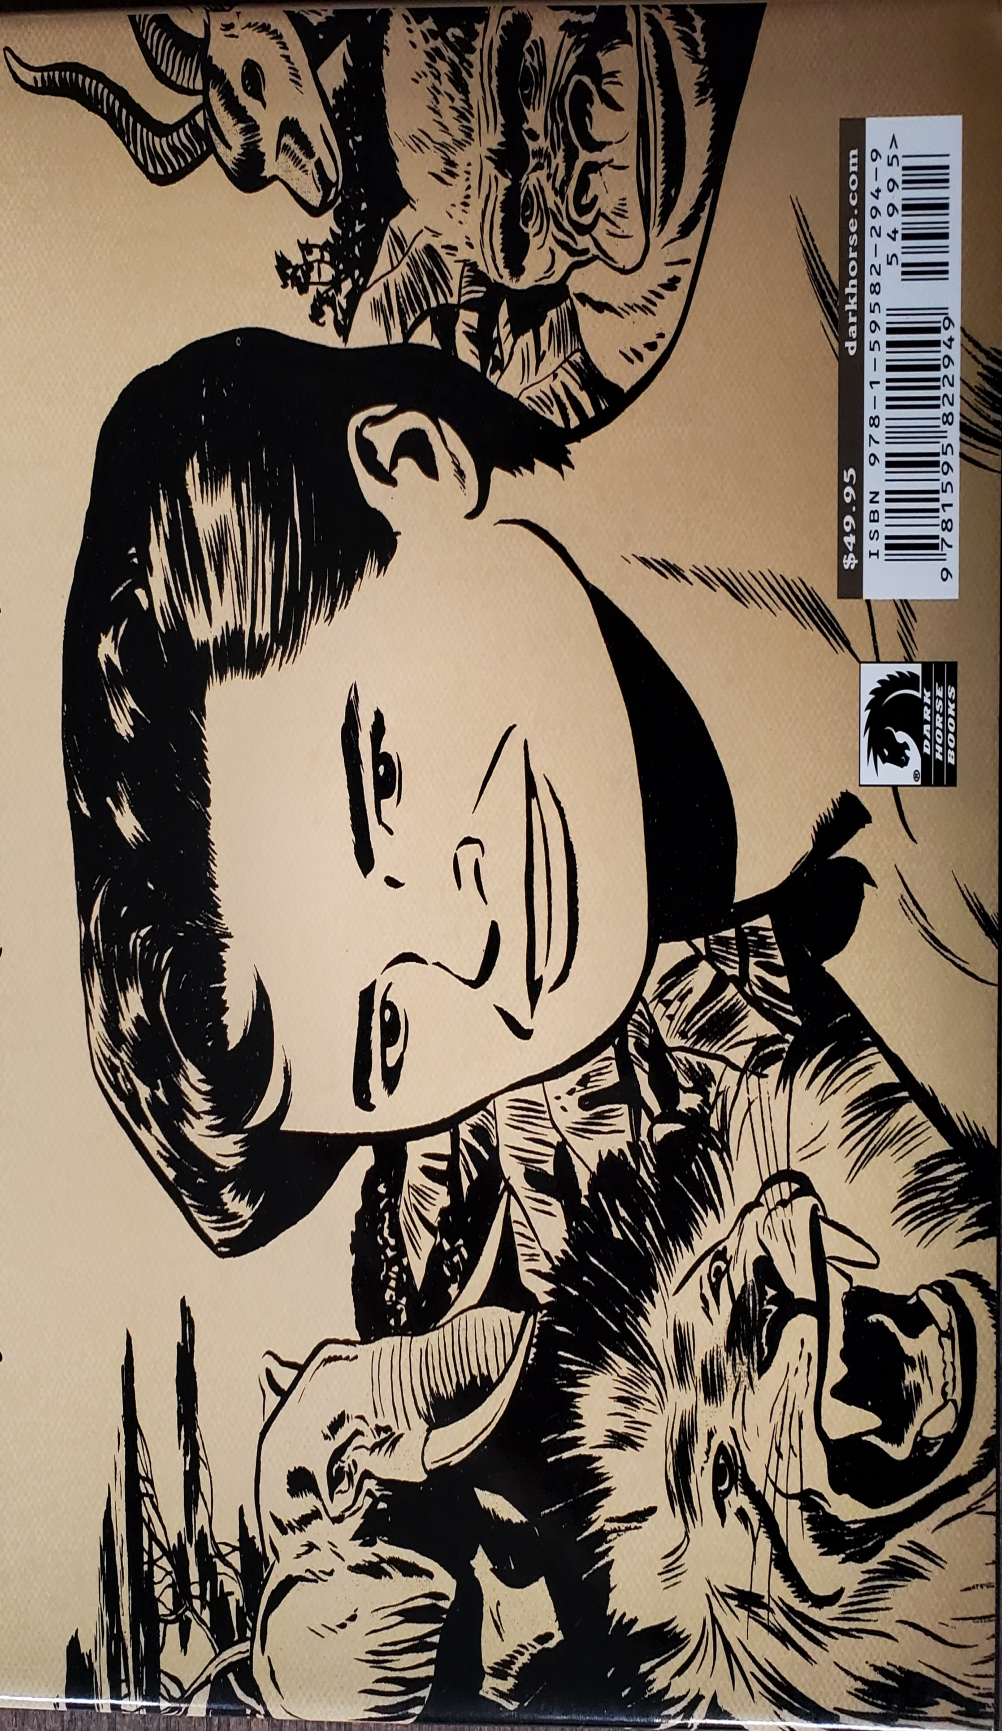

GRAPHIC NOVEL/HISTORY/ADVENTURE

Jesse Marsh's style of understated realism brought Tarzan's verdant jungle world to life for an entire generation. These stories invite readers to lose themselves in adventure—evade Numa the lion and Gimla the crocodile on the way to lost Pal-ul-don or search for the treasure of the Bolgani. The groundbreaking, nineteen-year collaboration between Marsh and writer Gaylord DuBois produced an enduring vision of Edgar Rice Burroughs' world-famous character and earned the praise of such comics legends as Russ Manning and Alex Toth! Rediscover an entire year of this Golden Age series—collected for the very first time and with an introduction by Gilbert Hernandez (Love and Rockets).
