

image
1 SEP $3.99 US

THE PICHETSHOTE • DODSON • DODSON • POWELL
MANCHURIAN

TERRY DODSON

THE HORIZON EXPERIMENT

KEY WEST

DRIPPING WET UNDER THE FLORIDA SUN, I THINK ABOUT IT--

--HOW DIFFICULT IT IS TO FIND A GOOD MAN.

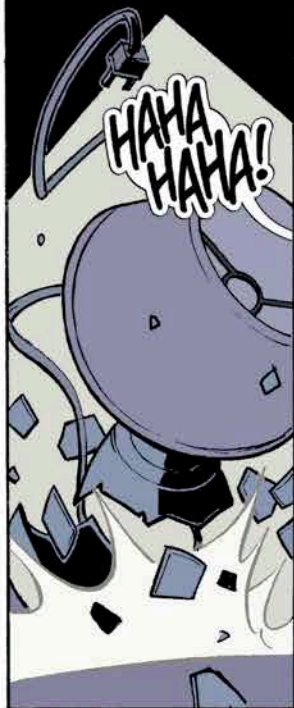

OR A GOOD WOMAN.

GOOD PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

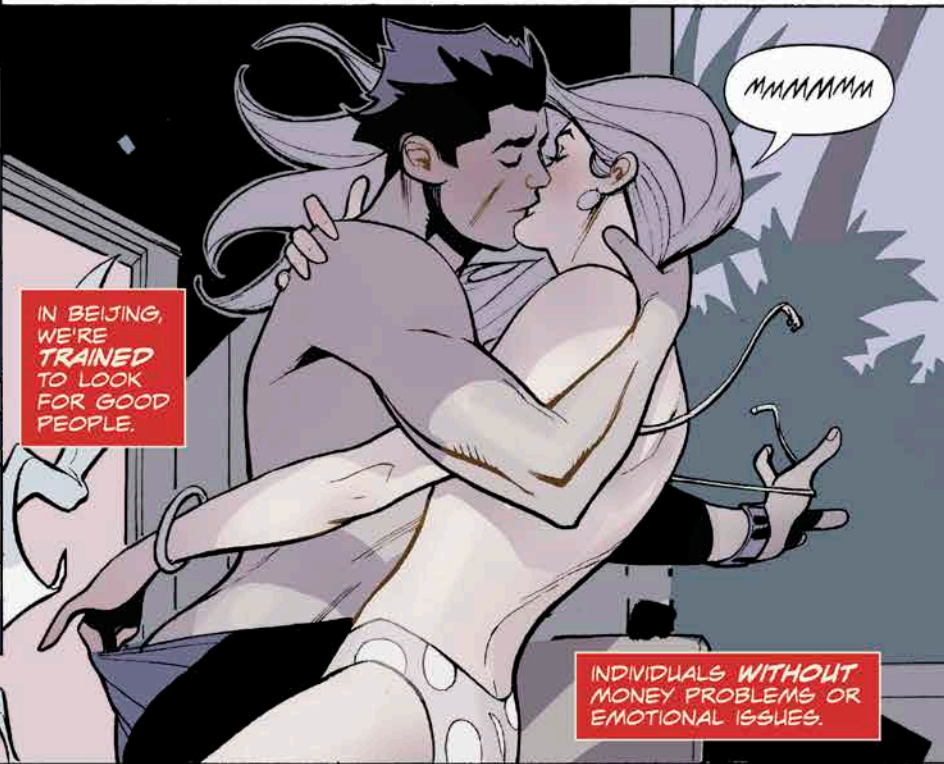

THEY'RE THE WORLD'S MOST ENDANGERED RESOURCE.

HAHA HAHA!

IN BEIJING, WE'RE TRAINED TO LOOK FOR GOOD PEOPLE.

MMMMMMMM

INDIVIDUALS WITHOUT MONEY PROBLEMS OR EMOTIONAL ISSUES.

THOSE EAGER TO HELP THEIR COUNTRY.

THOSE NOT LOOKING FOR REVENGE.

THEY'RE NOT LONELY.

OR HORNY.

YES!

AND WHEN YOU KEEP MEETING GOOD PEOPLE, YOU WONDER WHY THE WORLD SEEMS OUT TO HELP EVERYONE ELSE?

WHY ARE YOU PENALIZED
SO MUCH FOR CARING?

THE PRESIDENT'S YEARS LONG DIPLOMATIC DANCE WITH CHINA

LEAKED FILES REVEAL FINANCIAL NETWORK USING AMERICAN NONPROFITS TO PUSH CHINESE PROPAGANDA

WHY A U.S. GENERAL WARNS WAR WITH CHINA POSSIBLE IN LESS THAN FIVE YEARS from: August.Patel@pythia_consultant.com date: Wed, Aug 23, 7:50 AM (1 day ago)

✉

subject: Re: Security risks

Mr. Goodman has to understand the differences between Chinese and American spycraft. Firstly, Chinese espionage is corporate espionage - spying not on American governments but corporations - because of (1) China's expanding role as a financial superpower, and (2) that being where a country's true political will lies.

There's actually little overlap between Chinese and Western espionage. For one, the Chinese don't pay for intelligence. They believe people would never knowingly commit espionage, but would instead be indiscreet under the right circumstances.

China is not looking to recruit spies as much as "good people" willing to gossip and help China modernize. And with the unfettered travel back and forth into China, these gossips are recruited by China's top spy agency, the Ministry of State Security (MSS) while visiting the country.

Paul Moore, the former senior China analyst for the FBI, uses

^

v

US ALLEGES ELITE HACKING TEAMS BACKED BY CHINA'S GOVERNMENT

CHINA CLAIMS OWNERSHIP OF SECOND SPY BALLOON

HOW THE US PLANS TO CURB FLOW OF AMERICANS' SENSITIVE DATA TO CHINA

...the analogy of "a thousand grains of sand" to describe Chinese espionage.

For example, if Russians wanted to steal sand from a beach, they'd send a few elite frogmen at night.

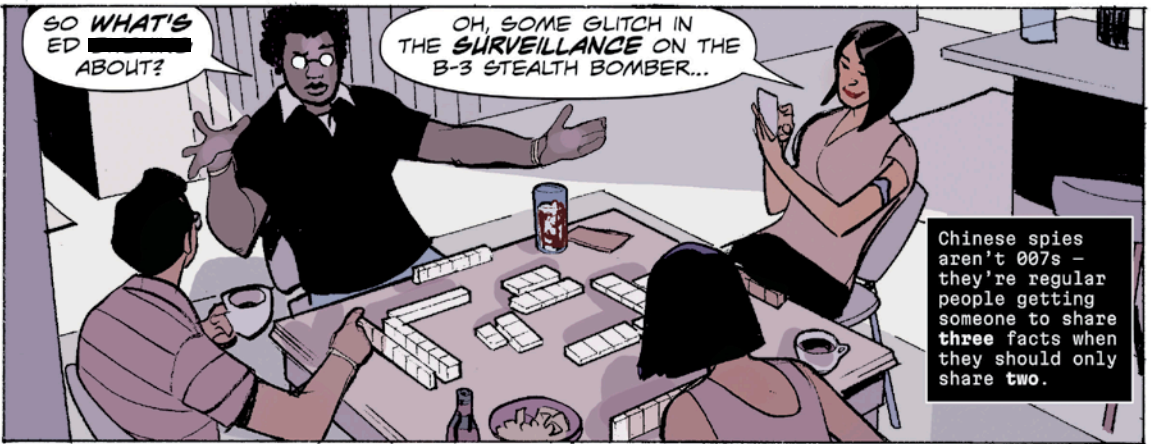

...DON'T GET ME STARTED ON RIBOSOMES. WE WASTED TWO YEARS ON VACCINE TRIALS...

IF THEY PROMOTED HER THEN THE THREE NANOMETER PROCESS MUST HAVE GIVEN THE MICROPROCESSORS A 90% YIELD...

China, however, would send a thousand tourists mid-day.

That thousand would return, shaking out their towels until they produced more sand than the Russian frogmen.

SO WHAT'S ED ABOUT?

OH, SOME GLITCH IN THE SURVEILLANCE ON THE B-3 STEALTH BOMBER...

Chinese spies aren't 007s - they're regular people getting someone to share three facts when they should only share two.

They then report those morsels back to China with each visit.

But... what happens when that process goes wrong?

SAN FRANCISCO

I DOWNLOADED A COPY OF THE TARGETING SOFTWARE FOR SWANN'S NEW MILITARY DRONES...

...THEY SPENT TENS OF MILLIONS DEVELOPING IT...

...AND NOW IT'S OURS.

JILLIAN-- WE DON'T NEED DRONES. WE NEED YOU TO STOP.

THE IDEA IS TO GET GOSSIP-- INFORMATION-- NOT OUTRIGHT STEAL--

SWANN'LL NEVER KNOW--!

I'VE BEEN ASSIGNED TO PROTECT JILLIAN AMES-XU. SHE WORKS FOR SWANN GLOBAL TECHNOLOGIES-- ONE OF AMERICA'S LEADING DEFENSE CONTRACTORS...

YOU'RE ON A LIST OF SUSPECTS SWANN'S INVESTIGATING FOR THEFT.

WH-- WHAT...?

GOD, THIS EXHIBIT IS SO COOL...

...BUT HER IDEA OF CHINA'S PRIORITIES ARE CONTINUALLY MISGUIDED--THE RELICS OF AN OUTDATED WAR.

CONTINUED IN THE HORIZON EXPERIMENT THE MANCHURIAN #1