

PATRICK KINDLON & LUDOVIC LALLIAT

REGG GIDD

We won't make it if I can't rely on you.

There are still unimaginable evils ahead. And you're not ready.

Your loneliness was nearly the death of us. Your schoolboy need for love.

Almost threw our mission away for some busty figments of your imagination. Mind trollops.

I would be better off with a second mule than you.
Your village elders were wrong not to warn me.

At least a mule would smell bett--

Sir...

A comic book illustration of a castle on a hill. The castle is a large, multi-towered structure with a prominent central spire, situated on a grassy hill. The hill is covered with numerous dark evergreen trees. In the foreground, there is a body of water, possibly a lake or a wide river, with some reeds or tall grasses visible in the bottom left corner. A large, dark, leafy branch hangs down from the top right corner of the frame. The sky is a pale blue with a few small white clouds. The overall style is that of a classic comic book, with bold lines and a limited color palette.

Chapter three HAVE FAITH

...I have my limits.
