"Morgan Le Fay is defeated.

"King Jamie Braddock sits on the throne of Avalon.

"We have no war with Opal Luna Saturnyne, and yet the Starlight Citadel remains hidden to us...

"...and hidden to Captain Britain.

"The forces of the White Witch refuse our messengers.

"Captain Britain must seek the audience of the White Witch on our behalf.

"These warwolf skulls will light a beacon that will guide you to the Citadel.

"You must be careful, as it is contested land.

"Do not fear.

"Wherever a seed can take root, we will not be defeated.

"When I was young, distance meant something.

"Generations lived and died on the same acre.

"When someone went away, they rarely returned.

"Krakoa makes it so mutants may never know distance again. Nothing can keep us apart.

"But Krakoa is only half of a whole. Forever longing.

"And I made it that way.

"It was brutal and bloody. I did it because I was the only one who could.

"Only I could have sent my four finest warriors into reddest hell, and-- worse than asking them to die for me-- I asked that they live, fighting eternally."

You want me to thank you?

No.

I want you to do something for our people.

"To protect this era we have built for ourselves, I would stop at nothing, Excalibur.

"And neither should you.
